What is VeganNation?

VeganNation is the first global decentralized community for vegans. Based on blockchain technology, a designated cryptocurrency, and a sharing economy platform, we are creating a one-stop-shop ecosystem, uniting hundreds of millions of vegans from around the world into a single, vast global community. We provide services spanning economy, technology, content, marketplace and more. Our mission is to assist vegans with every aspect of their lives, every single day, by making veganism easy, approachable and more affordable.

What is the VeganCoin?

VeganCoin (VCN) is the cryptocurrency issued by VeganNation with an Initial Coin Offering (ICO) beginning in October 2018. VCN will be the official currency of the vegan community, allowing direct trade from cruelty-free businesses to consumers who lead a vegan lifestyle. With VCN, VeganNation is creating a vegan economy, built on the Ethereum blockchain system.

Attract New Customers

Mobile wallets are the preferred choice of payment for millions of people worldwide, especially millennials, with over 1.4 billion people worldwide who have used them. Millennial consumers are more interested in electronic coupons, loyalty programs, and reward points than any other group and they are more likely to make purchases based on those factors.

Another key behavior of millennials, who account for 30% of population and spend 200 billion dollars annually, is that they don't want to simply consume, but rather co-create with brands, creating positive impact on the future by choosing brands with strong social and environmental causes. 68% of millennial consumers state that a brand's social and environmental causes are a factor of extreme importance, and 90% claim they are likely to switch from one brand to another (even when price and quality are equal) if the second supports a cause.

By joining us, you are entering a global community with a simple, and an easy-to-act-upon cause that doesn't require any of your resources to maintain.

Increase customer loyalty

With VCN, the loyalty program is embedded into the currency's use, so there's no need for customers to enter a separate loyalty program. The process is seamless; customers receive points for shopping at your store every time they use the currency. This increases the chances that a first-time consumer will become a repeat and loyal customer. Also by telling friends about your store - one that accepts VCN, customers will know that they benefit the vegan ecosystem, contributing to a good feeling about their purchases, leading them to be more vocal about your brand, increasing traffic to your site, and increasing sales due to word-of-mouth advertising.

Get a vegan stamp of approval

VeganNation's ambassadors will check and approve every business that wants to join our ecosystem to ensure that the products and services meet the nation's standards. The list of vendors and collaborators will be exclusive and as such, provides your business with the VeganNation stamp of approval. VeganNation is working hard to bring much-needed transparency into the vegan supply chain, ensuring a 100% cruelty-free shopping and community experience.

Additional exposure for your business

With VeganCoin you can do business anywhere and attract international customers, breaking the global barriers and lowering costs for of global trade, associated with receiving payments from overseas, foreign exchange risks and transaction delays, as well as receive additional global exposure as a VeganNation vendor.

No exchange fees and dependency on local currencies

When opening new store locations or localized language versions of your shop, you don't have to worry about accepting payments in the local currencies, which increases global business, trade and partnership opportunities.

Get Paid Faster by Customers, Distributors, and Resellers

In the traditional model, consumers purchase a product and pay via cash, check, or credit. It may take time to fully clear the funds into a business' account. When doing business with distributors and resellers, it may take 30-180 days to get paid for most vendors. VCN can be used for any part of the supply chain, and smart contracts allow for immediate payment upon delivery of product as specified in the contract for all levels of the supply chain. Thanks to blockchain, smart contracts are programmable, self-executing computer codes that run independently of traditional financial approval systems. The ledger transparency provided by blockchain allows a stable algorithm to perform the transactions immediately and records all ledger changes in the process. This means that businesses no longer need to wait for their hard-earned funds to appear in their accounts.

Elimination of Chargeback Fees

Chargebacks that occur due to fraudulent activities, of which vendors are usually unaware nevertheless held responsible for, are detrimental to businesses - with small businesses taking the biggest hit. Thanks to the blockchain nature of smart contract cryptocurrency which provides transparency and safety, all

VeganCoin sales are final, and vendors, therefore, experience zero risk income loss. The business can honor returns in accordance with their return policy through a frictionless process.
